

Car Safety Seats 2019 List

The type of seat your child needs depends on several things, including your child's age, size, and developmental needs.

Here is a list of car safety seats (manufacturer names are bold-faced, weight is in pounds [lb], and height is in inches ["]). See Car Safety Seats 2019 Guide, for information about choosing the most appropriate car safety seat for your child.

NOTE: All products listed meet Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard 213 as of the date of publication. There may be car safety seats available that are not listed in this publication. Prices are approximate and may vary. The following information is current as of the date of publication. Before buying a car safety seat, check the manufacturer's instructions for important safety information about proper fitting and use.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) has put together the car safety seat Ease-of-Use Ratings to educate parents and caregivers about car safety seat features and to assist them in finding the appropriate seat for their needs. You can view the ratings at www.safercar.gov/parents/CarSeats/Car-Seat-Ratings-Ease-Of-Use.htm.

Although the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) is not a testing or standard-setting organization, this publication sets forth AAP recommendations based on the peer-reviewed literature available at the time of its publication and sets forth some of the factors that parents should consider before selecting and using a car safety seat.

IMMI GO	With harness: 22–65 lb, 31"–52". Caregivers should follow NHTSA best practice child car seat recommendations: Children younger than 1 year should always ride in rear-facing car seats, and children 1–3 years of age should ride in rear-facing car seats as long as possible and until they reach the upper height or weight limit according to the manufacturers' instructions. A child must be a minimum 1 year of age and 22 lb to use this child restraint. Restraint back is flexible and follows the angle/contour of the vehicle seat back. Remove harness and seat back cover and it becomes a backless booster: 40–100 lb, 43"–57", at least 4 years of age, and top of ears below top of vehicle seat.	$209
WAYB Pico	Forward facing only. 22–50 lb, at least 29". Stop use when top of ears are level with top of headrest.	$350
